City half day, San Pedro MKT and nearby ruins. Duration: 4 hrs

This charming half-day tour of Cusco offers us history, living culture and art. We will be able to appreciate how Andean and Spanish culture, as well as the past and the present, coexist in harmony in the Imperial City. We will arrive at the center to walk through the corridors of the San Pedro market, the oldest in the city. Designed in 1925 by Gustave Eiffel, today it brings together hundreds of merchants selling local products. We will also visit the Koricancha, which during the Inca Empire was a center of worship to the Sun and on which the Santo Domingo convent was later built as part of the evangelization process. Its baroque-style façade built on solid Inca walls perfectly sums up the syncretism of cultures in the city of Cusco. To appreciate the grandeur of the Incas, we will ascend to the monumental fortress of Sacsayhuamán, which with its enormous carved stone walls constitutes one of the best examples of Inca military architecture. We will also visit the archaeological center of Kenko, a ceremonial place where the Sun, the Moon and the stars were worshipped. We could not take a tour of the city without visiting the Cathedral, the most important temple in the entire city. It was built by the Spanish on the palace of the Inca Huiracocha. Its interior houses a wonderful collection of colonial art made up of pieces of goldsmithing and representative paintings of the Cusco School.

In the Sacred Valley we will find ancient history and living culture. We will have the opportunity to appreciate the textile process of each piece, the supplies used, the method of obtaining its natural dyes and the weaving techniques that are passed down from generation to generation. In addition, we will be able to see the work of the artisans in person. We will also arrive at the archaeological complex of Chinchero, one of the most impressive in the area that during the Tahuantinsuyu was an agricultural and livestock center, with terraces and aqueducts. Nearby, we will see the exterior of the Nuestra Señora de Monserrat church built in 1607 on the old Inca palace and which today is an example of the confluence of Andean and Spanish culture during the Viceroyalty, especially in the artistic aspect of its decoration. We will continue to delve deeper into the Inca world in Moray, which during the Tahuantinsuyu served as a laboratory and agricultural research center according to some studies. Its enormous concentric terraces and the variety of microclimates they created allowed the growth of a wide variety of crops. We will enjoy the local flavor in a restaurant during lunch and continue to Ollantaytambo, an ancient military, religious and agricultural center of the Incas. We will tour the main temple and the terraces of the stone fortress. Its fortress, a display of all the Inca power, is strategically located on a mountain, where we will tour its main temple, terraces and fountains, while enjoying an unbeatable view of the town, the only one that maintains the original Inca urban design and where we will be able to see its stone streets, its market and breathe the spirit of the Andes.
